

NEURAL NETWORK TRAINED WITH SPATIAL ERRORS

ABSTRACT

A neural network is trained with input data. The neural network is used to rescale the input data. Errors for the rescaled values are determined, and neighborhoods of the errors are used adjust connection weights of the neural network.